Re: This is between you Xxxx & I

George & Xxxx:

George I never wanted your ass. My objective is and always has been the ULC Modesto. You are simply put destroying yourself. You are grasping at straws and you wouldn't be doing it if you were so right.

There is still time to stop this. Your attacks of me are only because you know I am good at what I do and because you know what I am saying is the truth. You are risking your future by waging war.

Here is the bottom line, I think you are a good person. But you have this '85 injunction hanging over your head. Now Kirby Hensley he was a jerk, and Kirby got away with all of his BS. I'm not saying you were innocent, but you aren't the person the media portrayed you as.

Andre is not a bad person, he is weak, nothing like Kirby. Andre left home when he turned 18, he wanted nothing to do with the ULC and I don't think he is too big on it now. I have no animosities toward him.

With Zimmerman I'm not impressed with Daniel.

You provoked this, not I. You withheld that September 1st payment, you should of been up front and honest. You than put all that BS on my profile, and NO I never have been convicted of felonies.

All I wanted to do was to start the ULC as I did on the same day at the same age as what Kirby was. I want it to be Christian and only Christian. I had no desire to compete with you.

This is not doing either of us any good. It is hurting the ULC name. I say we call a truce. Publicly state we have reconciled and remove all the BS and garbage, forming a friendly alliance. I will reword my website as well.

All I want to do is to carry on as a Christian Church. By you and I being on friendly terms, we can break Modesto. George this is business, there is not room for Modesto, the Monastery and me. One of you two has to go. Yes I am looking to use the Monastery as leverage to break Modesto. I'd much rather see that than you going under.

I will add a link from your website to my website for non_christians or those seeking interfaith ordination and I ask of you to do the same for mine for those seeking Christian in your website Friends section. I will type out a retraction with the AG, GoDaddy and the US Patent & Trademark Office and withdraw all complaints before the ball gets rolling. My guess is if I submit a letter everything is resolved, everything will be dropped. But if a letter is not submitted by me, they will investigate that Injunction.

This is a fair offer. Many of the Christians would want to be ordained by both. I get many Modesto Ministers who I turn away that I could be sending your way. That is what I wanted to do to begin with. I offered a link for interfaith ordination.

If you want to talk, I'm willing to talk to you. A simple statement as follows:

"Brother Michael and Brother Martin have reconciled their differences. They have agreed to remain separate entities, but to work together on a friendly basis continuing in the tradition of the Universal Life Church to offer diversity with respect to the pathway you choose to take. Brother Martin and Universal Life Church Monastery offers interfaith ordination, while Brother Michael and the Universal Life Church and Christian Academy offer Christian faith-based ordination."

I'll leave it up to you.

~ Brother Michael
